

Songs and Ditties

This is a collection of working songs and ditties or partial bits and pieces of musical ideas. I have always had lots of musical ideas that have never been developed so this is just a musical diary of sorts. Some of the pieces will get developed further and revised as time goes on. I will upload more of these pieces in the future. Ideas and comments are always welcome at mdreher@mixermuse.com. Also, the guitar playing may be rough at times but these were only meant as ideas. Here is a catalog and history of these pieces:
